

A soft, monochromatic photograph of a winter scene. The background is filled with dark evergreen trees, their branches dusted with snow. The foreground is a smooth, white expanse of snow. A gentle snowfall is visible as small white specks throughout the scene, creating a dreamy atmosphere. The overall tone is muted and serene.

Here's to winter,
without you
we wouldn't appreciate spring.

Cheers!